Highest Qualities!

Perfect Fits!

Lowest Prices!

To all Clothing Buyers:

A hope realized, a promise fulfilled. That is what every sale we make means. Our one thought in buying, our one aim in selling, is to find your want and meet it as no one else can meet it. We weigh every word thoughtfully in the scale of fact. We measure every value we put before you carefully. As a result ours is a sincere store everybody knows just what to expect, and expects just what they find. The best at the very Lowest Possible Price. In our new line of seasonable goods, Quality and Style are pre-eminent, and Low Prices predominate throughout.

Men's and Boys' Clothing, Hats, Caps and GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Your responsibility ends and ours begin when you buy of us. We are right behind every transaction we make. Come and look at our New Stock. You will find friendship, as we esteem every visit from you a personal favor. If you want to buy right, if you want to be treated right, if you want to save money, make our store your trading house.

SANITARY NEWS.

Sanitary News, March 19, 1900.

Death has entered the homes of two of our neighbors and taken away a good and noble woman, and an old Confederate soldier. On last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Mr. J. B. Cochran died quite suddenly. Mr. Cochran has been a great sufferer for years from the effects of a wound received in the war. Mr. Cochran leaves a wife and seven children, and a host of relatives to mourn his loss. Mr. Cochran's remains were interred at Long Cane Cemetery the following morning at 11 o'clock. Sunday night Mrs. Stephenson breathed her last. She had been sick of bilious fever for two or three weeks, and every one thought her on the road to recovery, when last Saturday there was a change for the worse and she died Sunday night. Mrs. Stephenson was a good Christian woman, and we believe that she is now better off in the world above. Mrs. Stephenson was a widow woman with ten children, who will miss her a great deal. The funeral was presided at by Rev. Dr. J. C. Lowry at 3 o'clock Monday P. M., and the interment at Long Cane Cemetery.

Mrs. Jane Crum and her son, Eastern, of Williamson, was the guest of her aunt, Miss Jane Gordon, last week. Miss Jane Gordon raised Mrs. Crum from a little girl of infancy.

Mrs. and Chas. Cochran visited Hodges last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Sadie Simpson spent Wednesday with the Misses Stephenson.

Mr. Dave Nichols is now able to make his usual calls on the young ladies near Hodges. He was down last Saturday.

Miss Sallie Milford returned Saturday from the city, where she has been visiting her cousin, Miss Ollie McVain.

Mr. Chas. Milford passed through Sanitico Sunday.

Mrs. Smith, of Lebanon, was called to the death bed of her sister, Mrs. Stephenson, last Saturday.

ERSKINE'S NEW DORMITORY.

New Building for the Accommodation of Young Ladies—Due West News and Notes.

Due West, S. C., March 20, 1900.

Dr. O. P. Hawthorn and twenty-two bales of cotton at nine cents a few days ago.

Mr. Reagin, of Kings Mountain, entered Erskine College last week. He will be pitcher for Erskine base ball team.

Some days ago Dr. J. W. Wideman, assisted by Mr. Joseph Nance, spent a day or two in Columbia last week looking after his property interests in that section of the state.

Mrs. E. P. Kennedy, of the Kennedy House, attended the Smith-Muse wedding at Verdery last Wednesday.

Mr. R. C. Browline went to Anderson last Friday, and bought a fine buggy horse.

The bridge that spans the creek between between Due West and the home of Mr. R. W. Haddon, proves to be of great convenience, and is highly appreciated by the traveling public. The channel of the creek has been deepened and deeper for the past ten years, and the stream should have been bridged long ago. In behalf of an appreciative public, we return thanks to Supervisor Lyon for his prompt reply to the request of those who petitioned for this bridge.

Jack Caldwell since last fall, has been traveling for G. G. Green, of Woodbury, N. J. He is now in Colorado and making a success of his business.

Mr. Ira Caldwell, of the Seminary, preached at Central school house last Sabbath afternoon.

Prof. D. G. Caldwell, Mrs. D. G. Caldwell, Miss Edith Johnston, Miss Janie Carson, Miss Ellen Sherrard, Mr. J. Broadus Knight, and Mr. Phillips, spent Saturday and Sabbath quite pleasantly at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Erwin, at Anderson.

Some hungry vagabond, who did not raise a hog last year, helped himself to a side of bacon from Mr. Jack Eglin's meat house on Central school house last Sabbath afternoon.

Mr. Sloan Ellis and Mr. Robert Ellis, successful young farmers, who live near Selkirkham Church, sold cotton at Hones Path last Friday at 9 1/2 cents. This is the highest price for any of the farrow obtained for cotton, so far as we have been able to ascertain.

Miss Edgell Haddon and Miss Katherine Jay, have lately had a pleasant visit with Miss Corrie Haddon, west of Due West.

Resolved that Washington was a greater general than Robert E. Lee. The above was the subject debated at the public school last Friday afternoon. E. J. Oakes, of Pelzer, and Lawrence Browline represented the affirmative and Lavinia Wain, Josie McVain, and Marilla Brooks the negative.

The boys won the day.

Mrs. M. F. Bryson had a pleasant visit with her daughter, Mrs. Livy Watson, at Bradleys last week.

The report is current that John Lee Hunter has been offered three hundred dollars, a month to play base ball this summer with the Atlanta league.

Monday morning we had an opportunity of looking through to new dormitory for girls that are expected to attend Erskine College in the future. The building is built of brick and stands in the beautiful grove of pines where the vast crowds that attend commencement hitch their horses and near the path leading from the campus toward the residence of Mr. H. W. Young. In size it is 100 feet by 70 feet and the central portion of the building is three stories in height, the remainder being two stories. The front piazza is about seven feet from the ground, ten feet wide and seventy-four feet long. The entrance is arched overhead and the double doors set back some four feet from the front wall. On the right are the two parlors, the kitchen and connected by double sliding doors. On the left are the library and office, some 200 square feet, and also connected by sliding doors. On the first floor there are also two parlors and a dining hall, the latter being 100 feet by 40 feet. The second floor is reached by an elevator and is 40 feet wide and 100 feet long. It is expected that the building will be completed by the young ladies who attend Erskine College. The third floor is given to a beautiful art gallery 32 feet by 100 feet, and two annex rooms. A splendid sky light admits abundance of light. Halls, 8x7 feet, extend the full length of the building and intersected by hall running from front to rear. Each upper and lower main central one glass about 3 feet square and hung on weights. The corner rooms have four windows, the others two. Transoms are over all doors and have patent lifts of ventilation. The four front rooms and the dining hall are to be prepared, but the remainder of the building is left with a sand finish. Wires have been placed throughout the building so that it may be lighted by electricity. In the basement is a large room for a furnace. All doors, ceilings and baseboards are painted white. All the windows have inside blinds closed.

Separated from the main building by a narrow passage is a two story annex also of brick. The first floor contains the kitchen 16x21 feet, a butler's pantry and closet. These are provided with sinks and apparatus for hot and cold water. On the second floor are fitted up two bath rooms with enameled tubs, three water closets, a laboratory and dressing room. The best hardware is used throughout. It is covered with slate, the walls are painted a dark red and polished. A lot of handsome furniture has been bought and is now in the building. The building is owned by Frank P. Milburn of Charlotte, is the Architect and Capt. J. Y. Orden of Charlotte is the contractor.

An avenue about thirty feet wide has been opened out to Main street, and is lined on either side with freshly set shade trees. An avenue of less width leads toward the College building with shade trees on the sides. Over the doorway on the second floor in large raised letters on a granite slab may be read the name of the building, Wylie Home. It is named in honor of the philanthropist, Dr. Joseph Wylie of Chester, S. C., who gave the money for the girls dormitory. The building cost about eight thousand dollars. It is a handsome appearance, and is a credit to the Associate Reformed Church, to Erskine College and above all, to the big hearted, generous friend of the college, Mr. Joseph Wylie.

Star Route Box Delivery.

Notice is hereby given to the public that the contracts for carrying the mail on all of the star routes in the State of South Carolina, taking effect July 1, 1900, provide that those who so desire may have the mail that is addressed to them delivered by the carriers into boxes along the lines of the several routes. Any person living on or near any star route in the State named who desires his mail deposited in a box on the line of the route by the carrier on said route may provide and erect a suitable box on the roadside, located in such manner as to be reached as conveniently as practicable by the carrier, and such person shall file with the postmaster at the postoffice to which his mail is addressed every such postoffice, upon a written order from any person living on or near the star route, to deliver to the proper mail carrier for that route any mail matter, except registered mail, with instructions as to the proper mail box into which said mail matter shall be deposited; but no mail matter so delivered to a carrier for deposit shall be carried past another postoffice on the route before being deposited in a mail box.

The carrier on the star route will be required to receive from any postmaster on the route any mail matter that may be intrusted to him, outside the usual mail bag, and shall carry such mail matter to and deposit it in the proper boxes placed on the line of the route for this purpose; such service by the carrier to be without charge to the addressee. The mail carrier must be able to read and write the English language and be of sufficient intelligence to properly handle and deposit the mail for boxes along the routes. The law provides that every carrier of the mail shall receive any mail matter presented to him, if properly prepaid, stamped, and delivered to him for mailing at the next postoffice at which he arrives, but that no fees shall be allowed therefor. The contract price covers all the service required of the carrier that is indicated herein. W. S. Shallenberger, 2nd Asst. Postmaster General.

L. W. White's Locals.

Notwithstanding the bad weather of the past week, there has been a great trade at the store of L. W. White for those remnants. Just think of it! Bleached muscopen one yard wide for five cents a yard. Also bleaching in pound packages for fifteen cents a pound. Also white ducks, white figured liques, and white lawns in remnants, all very cheap.

The prettiest line of matings ever seen in Abbeville is now on exhibition at L. W. White's store. Call and see them.

If you want percales, prints of gingham very cheap, call on L. W. White and buy them.
